Why Pay More? – The Mr Chu's Promise

At Mr Chu's we value our guest's repeat custom, we believe that for Weddings you should pay the same price as if you had just walked through the door like any other guest! So there are NO premiums on food or drink.

There are no extra setup costs, Each Wedding is individual and special and should be treated so, our staff take PRIDE and ENJOY in getting the venue the way you want it, because Weddings don't come around everyday!

The Great Wedding Rip off – Things to look out for when Booking a Venue

1. Premiums on food and drink, find out what the prices are if you had walked in on an ordinary night and booked to eat there! Do some research on it!
2. Strange and senseless Service fees, such as meet the team, cake table, cake knives, chairs, tables, extra staff, informal toastmaster and cake cutting service. These things are free and should be included without another word said.
3. Enforced Entertainment or services such as florists and room decorators, its YOUR Wedding so you should have YOUR say in this. A lot of venues impose this to garnish commission for themselves, its YOUR day so YOU do have a choice!
4. Are you the only Wedding at a Venue, ensure that you are so that the team there can give you their full attention. Get this in Writing if need be. This avoids problems such as shared bars and guests being in the wrong place.
5. Are there going to be enough staff at your Wedding and do they have the Relevant Experience? How many bar staff are there going to be on a night? What is the ratio of staff to guests? How experienced are the waiters and waitresses? Have they worked a Wedding season before? Are they agency staff? what is the average length of Service for a member of staff? Find out these things!
6. Feel comfortable with the people at the Venue, do they want you back for anniversaries, birthdays, meals, etc in the future? Are any of the staff going to recognise you if you come into the venue after the Wedding day is over? Or do you feel as if you are someone just to extract money from for one day and one day only!
